Giving siblings separate turns. If siblings share a study space, assign one learner to read and the other to listen for a teacher-chosen feature. Swap roles with a different example. Record one observation per learner. A shared session can still finish with two different practice tasks.

Linking two learnt sections. Have the tutor choose two adjacent units the learner can already recall separately. Practise the ending of the first together with the beginning of the next. Try the transition after a different short activity. Record whether the join still needs an opening cue.

For the next session, keep one activity kids quran classes online familiar and change the example in the other. This makes it easier to see which skill the learner can use independently.
