Beyond its tactical gameplay, extreme clutch moments, and global esports competitions, an enormous part of the game's long-lasting appeal depends on its virtual economy. Weapon cases are virtual containers dropped randomly to gamers who actively play on official and neighborhood servers, or acquired through peer-to-peer marketplaces. To open a case, a player must buy a specific product called a Weapon Case Key from the in-game shop (normally priced around £ 2.50 GBP).

When opened, the case yields a single weapon skin or set of gloves, randomized based on predefined rarity tiers. These tiers range from standard "Mil-Spec" (blue) products to ultra-rare "Covert" (red) products and exceedingly uncommon special items (knives and gloves).

The Economics of Case Purchasing

Valve classifies cases into 2 main swimming pools:

- Active Drop Pool: Cases presently dropping to players actively playing the game. These typically have a greater supply and lower market cost.
- Unusual (Discontinued) Drop Pool: Older cases that no longer drop routinely to active players. As these are opened, their overall worldwide supply decreases, often triggering their market price to value with time.

Case Category Drop Status Rate Volatility Typical Liquidity Active Pool Cases Dropping frequently Low to Moderate Extremely High Rare Pool Cases Discontinued drops High (Generally Upward) Moderate Commemorative/Major Cases Event-exclusive Moderate to High High throughout Majors
