2. The Database Myth

Numerous invalid vendors claim that they can place the buyer's information directly into the central Swiss traffic database (ADMAS). Cybersecurity specialists and Swiss authorities consistently expose this claim. The Swiss administrative infrastructure utilizes extremely protected, encrypted databases managed strictly by cantonal traffic offices (Strassenverkehrsamt). It is essentially impossible for external stars to bypass these security procedures.

3. Financial Fraud

A huge majority of online driving license suppliers operate as simple frauds. They demand payment upfront--often by means of cryptocurrency, wire transfer, or untraceable payment techniques. Once the funds are transferred, the supplier typically cuts off all interaction, leaving the purchaser without any legal recourse to recuperate their money.

Legal Alternatives for Foreigners

For migrants relocating to Switzerland, the process can in some cases be complicated, leading them to search for unapproved suppliers out of frustration. However, Switzerland has clear legal paths for transforming foreign licenses.

Key Rules for Foreign Licenses in Switzerland:

- Usage Limit: Visitors can drive in Switzerland using a foreign license for as much as 12 months.
- Obligatory Exchange: After 12 months of residency, residents should exchange their foreign license for a Swiss one.
- Reciprocity: Licenses from EU/EFTA member states can usually be exchanged without a useful test. Licenses from certain non-EU countries (such as the United States, Canada, or Australia) may need a control drive (Kontrollfahrt) with an expert to evaluate driving proficiency.
