The goal is not just to get the opening closed again, it is to make sure the next hailstorm does less damage than the last one.

A good installer should explain where standard windows are sufficient, where impact rated units are worth the extra cost, and where the opening itself needs repair before either option will perform correctly.

Either way, the window should fit the climate, the opening, and Flower Mound TX window installation the way North Texas weather actually behaves.