

Not every item fits neatly into a standard moving box. Lamps, mirrors, artwork, and irregularly shaped furniture all require creative solutions to move safely. Manifest Moving Columbus has developed effective methods for handling these tricky items over years of experience with all kinds of households.

A Moving Company in Columbus OH that knows how to adapt for unusual items helps prevent the damage that often occurs when these pieces get packed as an afterthought.

Handling Mirrors and Artwork

Flat, fragile items like mirrors and framed artwork need specialty boxes or custom crating for larger pieces. Manifest Moving Company uses cardboard corner protectors and bubble wrap to secure these items, positioning them upright rather than flat to distribute pressure more evenly.

Wrapping glass surfaces with a layer of packing paper before adding bubble wrap adds an extra barrier against scratches during transport.

Moving Lamps and Light Fixtures

Lamps often have delicate shades and thin bases that need individual attention. Columbus OH Movers wrap lamp bases separately from shades, using boxes sized specifically to prevent crushing during transport.

Removing bulbs before packing also reduces the risk of breakage and keeps the lamp lighter and easier to handle.

Protecting Curved or Irregular Furniture

Furniture with curved edges or unusual shapes, such as certain accent chairs or decorative tables, requires custom padding rather than standard moving blankets alone. Manifest Movers in Columbus OH assess each unusual piece individually to determine the best protective approach.

This individualized attention prevents damage that could occur from applying a one-size-fits-all packing method to items that simply do not fit the mold.

Planning Ahead for Unusual Items

Identifying oddly shaped items before moving day allows extra time to gather the right materials and plan the safest approach. Manifest Moving Columbus encourages customers to point out these items during the initial consultation so crews arrive fully prepared.

This advance planning avoids last-minute scrambling that can lead to rushed, less careful handling on the actual moving day.
